WELCOME TO POMPSTATION

At Pompstation, wine, dining, and live music go hand in hand. Every Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evening, we host live performances raging from jazzy and soulful sounds to singer – songwriters, tango, and bossa nova. From established artists to emerging talent, our stage is always alive with music. Find the full program at www.pompstation.nu

THE BUILDING

Pompstation is housed in a striking industrial building dating back to 1912, designed in the restrained yet expressive style of the Amsterdam School. Originally built as a pumping station for Waternet, the space where you dine today once held the city's water pumps. In the 1980s, the pumps were relocated to the basement directly beneath the restaurant. During heavy rainfall, they still spring into action to drain excess water from the city. You may feel a subtle – or sometimes powerful – vibration flowing through the building, a piece of Amsterdam's living infrastructure at work.

WHERE FIRE MEATS FLAVOR

Here, meat takes center stage. We personally select the finest cuts from world class farms, from prized european breed to South American beef to Japanese Wagyu, bringing to your table an experience that goes far beyond the simple steak

A STORY ON EVERY PLATE

Every piece of meat tells a story: of the farmer who raised it, the land that nourished it, and the aging process that enhanced its flavor and tenderness. We cook every cut over a charcoal grill, a technique that brings out natural flavors and delivers that caramelized crust and smoky aroma only open flame can create. We don't settle for average quality: we pursue excellence, cut after cut, supplier after supplier.

BEYOND THE STEAK

But great meat deserves great accompaniments. Our fish is chosen with the same dedication: only the catch of the day, sourced from trusted suppliers, selected for freshness and superior quality. Together with seasonal vegetables, it rounds out a menu designed to satisfy every palate — from the most demanding carnivores to lovers of the sea's flavors.

WILD WADDEN SEA OYSTERS (Seasonal)

Our oysters are hand-harvested from natural oyster beds in the Wadden Sea, in the north of the Netherlands. These Japanese oysters (Crassostrea gigas), known in France as Creuses, have thrived here since the 1980s. Their taste is unmistakably that of the Wadden Sea: saline, subtly sweet, full-bodied, and rounded, with firm texture and a clean, delicate flesh.
